The property is currently being freshly decorated throughout and benefits from new carpets, creating a smart, neutral starting point for its next owners. Having been substantially extended to both the side and rear, the accommodation provides a level of space and versatility rarely associated with a standard semi-detached home of this style.

At the heart of the property is a spacious open-plan lounge and dining room, with patio doors providing a natural connection to the rear garden. The extended dining kitchen offers excellent proportions and further potential for those looking to create a more contemporary open-plan living/dining kitchen, subject to any necessary alterations.

The side extension adds another dimension to the accommodation, currently incorporating a generous separate utility room and ground-floor shower room. The size and position of the utility provide genuine flexibility for the future and could potentially be reconfigured to create a ground-floor bedroom, home office or study, depending upon individual requirements.

To the first floor are three bedrooms and the family bathroom, with the front-facing bedrooms enjoying partial views on the horizon towards Mow Cop Castle.

Outside, the property continues to impress with off-road parking to the front and a particularly generous enclosed rear garden, combining extensive paved seating and entertaining areas with a lawned garden.

With its cul-de-sac setting, extended and adaptable accommodation, newly decorated interior, new carpets, generous garden and no upward chain, this is a home offering immediate appeal together with plenty of scope to adapt the layout for modern family living.
